To whom it may concern,

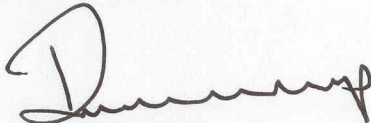

Martin Algie is an outstanding legal professional.

Martin has assisted Apotex on the negotiation of a number of key supply and procurement agreements, in total worth millions to the business. Above all else, I appreciated Martin's incisive comments and constructive, problem-solving approach to the negotiations. His commitment to a successful outcome in each case was exemplary.

I would have no hesitation in recommending his services.

If you would like to contact me to clarify and/or discuss any further details please do not hesitate to do so.

Yours sincerely

Roger Millichamp
